What is to be done

What is to be done? Imagine a wheel. At the top, collectives; at the bottom, individuals. The wheel must revolve. Who cares? All who value exploration, curiosity, imagination, wonder, venture, challenge, integrity. There are many of us. We will turn the wheel. How? Tell stories of a new world. Listen for adventures, share them, invest in the best, from each draw power to turn the wheel. Weave patterns of thought and action into networks. Change expectations. Design for emergence, limit control. Fearlessly manifest our strengths. Live in freeorder. This is what is to be done.
